DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claim 2, 3, and 12-13 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1-13 of U.S. Patent No. 6,693,999, and US Patent No: 6,510,212. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because all the claimed limitations are transparently found in US Patent 6,693,999, and US Patent 6,510,212 with obvious wording variation. For example, see following comparison of claim 1 of US Patent 6,693,999, and US Patent 6,510,212 with claim 2 of pending application.

US Patent No: 6,693,999: Claim 1. A program for a remote operation adaptor usable in a remote operating system which includes a portable telephone which is capable of connecting to an internet through a portable telephone network and browsing home pages and a service equipment, connected to a communication line, capable of providing home pages, said remote operation adaptor being connectable to said communication line controls home appliances, said program when executed causes said remote operation adaptor to perform the steps of: receiving contents of operation of the home electric appliance transmitted from said service equipment through said communication line; and controlling the home electric appliance connected to said remote operation adaptor unit, wherein said service equipment provides said portable telephone with home pages on a screen for giving an instruction to operate a home electric appliance, and transmits to said remote operation adaptor the contents of the operation of the home electric appliance for which an operating instruction is given by said portable telephone on a home page.

US Patent No: 6,510,212: Claim 1. A remote operating system comprising: a portable telephone having the function of connecting to an internet through a portable telephone network and the function of browsing home pages; a service equipment connected to a communication line for providing home pages; and a remote operation adaptor connected to the communication line and having the function of controlling home electric appliances; wherein said service equipment provides said portable telephone with home pages on a screen for giving an instruction to operate a home electric appliance, and transmits to said remote operation adaptor the contents of the operation of the home electric appliance for which an operating instruction is given by said portable telephone on a home page; and wherein said remote operation adaptor receives the contents of the operation of the home electric appliance transmitted from said service equipment through said communication line and thus controls the home electric appliance connected to said remote operation adaptor.

Application 10/725455: Claim 2. A service equipment for use in a remote operating system which includes a terminal equipment which is capable of connecting to an internet through a communication line and browsing home pages and a remote operation adapter connected to the communication line and capable of controlling home electric appliances, said service equipment comprising: a service equipment unit, connected to the communication line, for providing home pages from the internet, wherein said service equipment unit provides said terminal equipment with home pages on a screen for giving an instruction to operate a home electric appliance, and transmits to said remote operation adaptor the contents of the operation of the home electric appliance for which an operating instruction is given by said terminal equipment on a home page, and wherein said remote operation adaptor receives the contents of the operation of the home electric appliance transmitted from said service equipment unit through said communication line and thus controls the home electric appliance connected to said remote operation adaptor.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Claims 2, 3, and 12-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Claims 2, 3, and 12-13 have amended with the terms “a terminal equipment” that was not described in the Applicant’s specification or any equivalent meaning”. The correction is required the claims in appropriate.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL.

See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
